UUI Public Meetings. The Colonist has been engaged for iderable time in trying to write down all the public meetings in Victoria, aimpostdate give a warmer reception to its editors and under-atrappers at public meetings than a generous hissing. The sweetest temper could scarcely be expected to speak favorably of Victorians under such directions and discount of the seekers whose tempers are soured by disappointment and sickened by "hope long deferred" are very naturally irritable, and consequently much more excusable for venting their spleen on our citizens, because the latter don't appreciate them. But if newspaper people and and office-seekers can't please our citizens, we don't know why they should abuse them. About a year ago our coabuse them. About a year ago our co-temporary denounced one of the largest, and respects by attended, and one of the most orderly public meetings ever held in this city, as no inducation of public opin-ion. It said there were only a lot of foreigners there. Yet the resolutions of that meeting went to England, and as result, the Governor and Legislative Council received a snubbing for suspend-ing Humphreys from the exercises of his Council received a snubbing for suspending Humphreys from the exercise of his duties as a Legislative Councillor. So thorough was the snubbing that in the recent session, the Government backed by Mr. Nathan and Dr. Helmeken refused to give up the correspondence on the subject. At that meeting, the editor of "a local print" was experted, hissaid. At the meeting at the severely hissed. At the meeting, at the St. Nicholas last fall, on the Terminus question, the editor in question with his Saacho Panza were based off the platform. Dr. Helmcken's attempt to excuse his dereliction of duty respecting the Terminus, whilst acting as a delegate to Uttawa, was so utterly repudiated that not a hand was raised to support his position. He had gone all the way to Ottawa as the representative of our local interests, and we have the authority of one of the delegates that he never so much as mentioned the word Terminus. But let utioned the word Terminus. But let us see whether that public meeting had MUSIC not some effect? Dr. Heimcken immediately altered his address in favor of a terminus here; the Colonist delivered the series of articles on the terminus at Esquimalt, and urged the sending of a petition to Canada at once on the subject; and lastly the petition was sent would not be altered, which was the real creson why no attempt was made to Yet on Saturday last the Colonist stated that our public meetings were undeserving of notice. The Civil List meeting, too, is treated as of no account by the same "local print." Why? Because Dr. Helmcken was utterly repudiated; and because the Colonist was treated in the political cameleon. If either meetings had agreed with the views of our cotemporary, very possibly, we should have heard its praises sung. Even if there had been a division of opinion in any of these meetings, it is very probable, that we might have been treated to a second edition of the famous New Westminster meeting at which Mr. Robson boasted that he had the selectored of the Colonist, and was going to use his power to take the capital back to the Fraser. Strange, however, to say, he found it convenient to deny his speech on that occasion, and the result was his repudiation by that constituency. Truly public meetings have been most unfavorable to our cotemporary; but in the fitterest of the public at large we recommend it to give up mis-represent-

Hotel Statistics.

The new Washington weekly, the Capita publishes some remarks of an experienced hotel manager T. Roessle, from which we quote the following:

Take for example the prices which we re-ceive in the Arlington, which is a small hotel, with a capacity for no more than 324 per-

Senator Cameron paid for himself and wife $450 per month, and but two rooms. Senator Fenton had a parlor, two bedrooms, and an office, and paid $1,000 per month. S. S. Cox and wife paid $350 per week, and I gave him a buffet supper for 100 persons, which cost him $1,500. W. S. Huntington gave the Japanese the finest spread ever set in the Arlington Hotel; there were only twenty persons and he paid $1,000. Dr. Helmboid paid $96 per day, and his bill for two weeks was about $1,600. A parlor and three bedrooms in the second story of the Arlington, with a small family occupying them are worth to me $450 per week during the season; and one guest here pays for a parlor, bedroom and bathrooms $300 per month.

At the Delavan House, Albany, Dr Gautier used to pay $375 per week, and General Darling, with a parlor, three bedrooms' and four persons, paid $400. Our hotel at Lake George had 37,000 on the register last season in four months; we took in that space of time $294,000, and net profits were $52,-

ROYAU AND NOBLE BETHROTHAL, -The LOD don correspondent of the New York Herald March 16th, writes: I am enabled to write that the latest prevailing report is to the effect that a marriage has been arranged between the Princess Beatrice, the fifth daughter and ninth child of Queen Victoria, and the Marquis of Ely. The Princess Beatrice is now in her fourteenth year, having been born on the 14th of April, 1857. John Henry Wellington Graham Loftus, Marquis and Earl of Ely, was horn on the 20th March, in the year 1849. Should this union be accomplished Ireland will be honored by the ceremony just as will Scotland by the marriage of the Marquis of Lorne to the Princess Louise. The Marquis of Ely resides alternately at Loftus Hall, county Wexford, and Ely Castle, county Fermansph, Ireland. He traces his lineage back as far almost as that of the Campbells of Argyll, claiming that his ancestors were "held in high estimation" in England in the time of Affred, and that his forefathers possessed land and authority in York before the advent of the Norman and subsequent to the Conquest by military tenure.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

(Fals, April 11th 1871.

A public meeting was held at the Branch Saloon last night, to consider the policy of the government in passing the "Permanent Civil List Bill." It was very well attended. The stages had previously carried off the influx of miners, and the steamer on her return trip had taken sway the remainder of the visitors; so that with the exception of two of the speakers all were residents. This was exactly what was aimed at, viz: a pure and simple expression of the opinions and wishes of actual settlers.

OFFICERS BLECTED : Mr. McQuarrey was voted into the Chair — Mr. Place, Secretary. The Chairman after briefly explaining the object of the meeting, said that in his opinion a petition ought to be circulated in order to obtain the signature of every man in the district to protest against and to pray Her Majesty to withhold her sanction to this Bill. The Chairman then introduced

Who gave in brief outline a history of thi Bill—its nature as a government measure— its passage forced by an official vote in the teeth of a two-third vote of the people's repteeth of a two-third vote of the people's representatives—of the five protesting members—of His Excellency's ungracious answer containing an impossible parallel between the Civil Service Act of Canada for 1859 and this Bill—dissimilarity between the two—the Warrant system of the latter illegal, condemned and provided against in England at avery reasion of Parliament in passing the demned and provided against in England at every session of Parliament in passing the Appropriation Act. Mr. Kay next proved that Imperial Policy was directed to the government of the colonies in strict accordance with the well understood wishes of the colonists. Our remedy therefore lay in making ourselves heard distinctly at Ottawa and London through agitation, public meetings and resolutions, such as he had now the honor of proposing to the meeting. [These were the same as those passed at a similar meeting in Victoria.] It behoved every man present to join his fellow colonists elsewhere in opposing this impolitic measure of the government, which, in its workings would sap and undermine Parliamentary institutions in this colony, (loud appiause.) Mr. McCulley seconded.

Mr. Humphreys was then presented to th Mr. Humphreys was then presented to the meeting amid a perfect ovation. He said, he had striven faithfully to do his duty by his constituents, and to represent their interests. In order to accomplish this end, he had opposed the passage of this bill, which he, together with the majority of the elected members, utterly condemned. Not only was there bers, utterly condemned. Not only was there no precedent elsewhere for such personal legislation, but the bill contained a principle in the payment of officers, which transferred the power of the Assembly to the Executive. Salaries, pensions, and the number of officers on the staff were really minor questions, when compared with this new principle which would confer on the Governor a power irresponsible and independent of the people. The only means the Assembly could have of insuring the Governor's assent to any measure was, by withholding their vote on the supplies, and this vote it was now proposed to take from them. The Governor, with this statute in his hands, could say to them, 'I regret, gentlemen, that we can't agree. I will dissolve your Assembly, and will continue my administration with the seventy-eight thousand dollars which I an empowered to thousand dollars which I an empowered to lift from the treasury. You can now go home! In order to defeat this policy it was necessary for the people to meet publicly and to pass similar resolutions to those before the meeting. He should therefore advise the passage of those now before the meeting, the speaker sat down amid loud cheering).

Mr. McGinness was next called for. He stated that he fully endorsed what had already one present wanted do I kewise. The Chairman then put the resolutions which were carried unanimously, some putting up both hands. After a vote of thanks to the Chairman and Secretary, the meeting separated. The feeling here is very strong against the bill.

Those in charge of her appear to have thought that if they could only get outside, the moonshine would carry them south so rapidly that the risk of capture by a French i war-vessel would be reduced to a minimum. Still, to increase their security they shipped an English crew, and in going down river flew the English flag. But near Woosung they met the French frigate Venus coming up to Shanghai, the commander of which being told of the ruse immediately sent orders to the French gun boat in port to get up steam and pursue the merchantman, which she did with all promptitude, and soon overhauling the unfortunate Robert Rickmers, took her crew prisoners, put another crew on board and each her on the Saigon where she will be in good time for a cargo of rice. We have been kindly handed files of Japan papers to the 21st of Feb. ; the following The country is not considered free of smallpoz, until March or April shall have passed.
The papers tell us that the arrival of a Japanese offices, commissioned to take notes of the France-Prussian War, is tooked forward to with much curiosily and interest. It is certainly a very remarkable feature of the Japanese character, that they go in with such seat for studying and getting themselves well up in modern warfare.
